PERSONAL FINANCE MASTERY TRAINING 2010

This is PRISM CHECK's proprietary training that delves deeply into understanding the nature of money and how to secure mastery over it. This training will put you in charge whether you have a lot of money today or not. With this training, you will learn how never to be desperate for money ever again. But you will learn how to control money. You will learn how you are the one who determines whether money comes to you or leaves you. This gives you a sense of freedom that eludes many today.

If your topic of interest is not here, please contact us to inform us of your training need. We also offer a financial coaching service which can cater for you on a 1-2-1 basis.

Public Training

Our range of Financial Intelligence Training covers a wide spectrum of personal finance issues. These training sessions are offered at our designated venue and as long as you book on time, your seat will be guaranteed. When we are booked up for an event in a particular month, we encourage you to book for that same event at a future month. Most of our events are offered more than once in a year.

In-House Training

Throughout the year 2010, we are poised to conduct in-house training at over 50 different locations within the UK and abroad. Depending on our host client, some of these training events will be made available to the open public, whilst others will be closed. Details will be available on our website.
